

Indicators for long-term acute care

If your patient has medically complex needs that require intensive, long-term care, consider long-term acute care facility services.

A comprehensive treatment plan designed for your patient's specific needs will help them regain strength, health, and independence.

Our interdisciplinary team of specially trained clinicians are experts in treating critically ill patients. They are committed and passionate about delivering high-quality care to every patient, every time.

Qualified staff will perform a pre-screening evaluation and on-site assessments may be performed. Preadmission team conferences can be arranged to discuss patient and family goals. If necessary, transportation will be arranged by the hospital.

We treat a wide range of complex medical illnesses, including the following:

- Cardiovascular disorders
- Infectious diseases
- Respiratory conditions
- Neuromuscular diseases
- Neurological disorders
- Hematological disorders
- Renal disease
- Diabetes management
- Post-surgical recovery
